HTTP−ANALYZE
PRICING AND ORDERING INFORMATION

PRODUCT DESCRIPTION

This offer entitles you to buy a Commercial Service License for commercial use of http−analyze2.01. The software is available for download via FTP in binary and in source form through our web site. Also included is a pre−formatted manpage in PostScript and ASCII format.

We will send you an email with the registration ID and two replacement images for the "unregistered version" buttons which appear in the statistics reports. You must replace those buttons to complete the registration. See the file INSTALL or the manpage for further information how to brand your copy of http−analyze.

The written Service Licenses for the final version has been delayed and will (hopefully) start shipping at end of July, 1998. Included in the distribution is a file LICENSE. This license covers only the free version for private/educational users. It does not restrict use in the commercial environment you have registered for, i.e. you may provide commercial statistics service to users for their virtual web servers. See the description of the Commercial Service License at our web site (http://www.netstore.de/Supply/http−analyze/) for more information.

In the final version 2.01, http−analyze offers following additional features:

- Now displays pageviews and sessions in addition to hits.
- Allows you to display your own logo on the statistics report via config file settings.
- Binary distributions for easy installation.

Coming soon:

- Access to our private customer support area on our web site.
- Will include a User's Guide for end users that can be installed locally.

Support by email will be granted for the duration of one year after purchase. Online support via our web site is not limited. [1] For legal reasons and to avoid increased handling fees, payments must be made in German Marks (DM). This is usually no problem for a bank.
[2] We have used an exchange rate of 1.65 DM per dollar, so the dollar prices above are estimated costs at worst case conditions. You must instruct your bank to cover all exchange and handling fees from your end. We cannot be responsible for bank charges due to wire transfers, currency exchange etc.

Please see http://www.netstore.de/Supply/http−analyze/register.html for registration of a Personal License.

To register for a Commercial Service License, please use the order form on the following page. We will send you the registration information via email, will send an invoice for the pre−registration of a license by snail mail, email or fax, and will send you the written license as soon as available.

Thank you very much for using our products!
